Constance Hotels & Resorts has launched an ambitious food waste reduction program in six of its properties across the Indian Ocean in collaboration with LightBlue Consulting and its Food Intel Tech division. The initiative aims to significantly reduce food waste and enhance the sustainability of its operations.

The Constance Belle Mare Plage led the group by being the first resort to obtain The Food Pledge certification in April 2022 demonstrating its commitment to reducing food waste. By implementing this management system, various data during the food cycle were tracked and analyzed, identifying several areas for improvement.

Besides these analyses, the program includes training and education for team members to enhance their understanding of the impact of food waste on our ecosystem and how they can contribute to its reduction.

The Constance Hotels & Resorts group has already demonstrated its commitment to sustainability through various actions. The fight against food waste promotes a sustainable food system and contributes to a more environmentally conscious future by alleviating the pressure on global food systems caused by climate change, water scarcity, and other environmental factors such as greenhouse gas emissions.

By implementing a food waste management system that encompasses the complete lifecycle of its products, from production to disposal, Constance Hotels & Resorts continues to position itself as a pioneer in addressing sustainability and ecological responsibility challenges.
